

Will the GDPR Affect Your Organization?

If your organization processes the personal data of EU citizens, read on...

Today's digital world enables convenience and hyper-connectivity. But with that comes an increased risk to people's personal data, including identity theft and information misuse.

In response, the EU has introduced the General Data Protection Regulation, or GDPR, a regulation providing data protection and privacy rights for individuals, including the right to consent and object, the right to be forgotten, the right of access, rectification, and portability, the right to erasure, and the right to restricting of processing.

All organizations that collect the personal data of EU citizens must comply by May 25, 2018, regardless of if the businesses are located in the EU. Data controllers that fail to comply with the GDPR are subject to a fine equivalent to 4% of global annual turnover, or €20MM – whichever is greater.

SAP Business One is here to help.

Customers running SAP Business One for their enterprise resource planning (ERP) are equipped to easily and quickly fulfill certain GDPR requirements. In addition, SAP Business One is releasing upcoming enhancements like data protection and privacy tools, and enhanced changes to log personal data related fields and objects to ensure that all users' rights are protected and customers are enabled to achieve data protection and privacy compliance.

- ✓ SAP Business One obtains built in data acquisition processes to protect data by default
- ✓ With SAP Business One, you maintain the ability to completely erase personal data of customers, vendors, and employees if needed
- ✓ You can also easily transport data from one processing system to another
- ✓ And maintain records of processing activities to ensure transparency on processing of personal data

If you're a current SAP Business One customer or looking to quickly and easily obtain an ERP solution to ensure GDPR compliance, contact your SAP account representative to discuss details today. You can also chat with a representative on the SAP Business One homepage, here.

The sooner you act the better – all businesses must be compliant by May 25, 2018!
